

Welcome to the new Urbas website!

On this new website, Urbas renews its corporate image as a reflection of what we are imprinting in the company.

Urbas rejuvenates, adding new companies and creating business lines that bring added-value and long-term business certainty. It, however, maintains a commitment to continuity with our shareholders, its contribution to society and creating value since 1944.

We are building a more robust group capable of meeting the challenges set by the Board in the 2019-2022 Business Plan, that we are immersed, and which aims at increasing value for shareholders.

Throughout our 76 years, Urbas has experienced international financial and economic crises of all kinds, overcoming them with the determination and stability of large companies. The current crisis, produced by the COVID-19 global pandemic, adds difficulties to the challenges created by the changes and improvements in which we are engaged. However, the diversification of businesses and markets, coupled with the international alliances which we have been strengthening ourselves in the months previous to the pandemic, allow us to look at the future with confidence. Moving towards a continued and sustained growth that will soon show the real value, to the levels that the company and its shareholders deserve, and with an unbeatable position to address future challenges.

We mean to be transparent with everything we do, so I encourage you to stay tuned and to visit this website regularly. Then you will get to know, first hand, the news and progress of our work, the solutions we provide to society and the new products that we launch to the market.

Kind regards.

Juan Antonio Acedo Fernández

President and CEO of Urbas
